My second trip to the office did not go well, mostly for me. And now, it's third time out, and I have a light at the end of the tunnel! I was glad to see it, although I didn't expect it to be this far off. I had to have my six month flu shot, and they gave me a shot in my hand, which made me feel kinda silly, although it didn't really hurt. The doctor didn't say anything stupid or dumb like "Make sure you get the flu shot every year!" so I knew it wasn't going to be a repeat of last year. I got a book, not a pocket-sized one, which was pretty nice. I decided to read The Girl in a Band by Cherie Priest (a great fantasy), but the funny thing was that it was like reading about The Dresden Files, but the Harry Dresden character was in the story, and he was my age! That was a nice surprise. I'm trying to drink less Diet Pepsi. I know it's not a sin, but I really don't like the artificial flavoring, especially after being able to get sugar-free candy for Easter. (That is how candy got sweetened, by the way.) Maybe this year I will drink more water and eat healthier
