Source Editor Crack +

Source Editor is a handy application that can be used to view, edit, and validate various types of documents. It is a multipurpose environment that lets you not only view and edit HTML files, but also process and validate ASP.NET style pages and other content formats. You can also convert HTML, XML, and XHTML documents. Apart from this, you can also save the modified content to a string file and view the results using another program, or export the output to various other formats. These features can be accessed using the customizable toolbar or the contextual menu. If you only require basic functionality, then this application will do everything that you need. For example, this software can easily convert HTML and XML files, validate content formats, add CSS styles to HTML code, convert Unicode documents to ASCII, add page breaks to any kind of document, convert images to web-safe formats, insert rich text or images into your documents, split long or text-based documents into several parts, or add searchable indexes to the text of the document. Apart from that, there are various components available for customization. For instance, you can view information about the currently viewed document, enable syntax highlighting or insert the current date and time to any file. Furthermore, there are also extra options related to formatting, e.g., creating a tabulator character, defining the indentation size, adding a line break after a specified character, or if you need to make a graphical hyperlink, this program will help you. Moreover, you can also include references to external images or resources, automate the process of importing or exporting content to other formats, convert tables to tables of content, and many other features. To summarize, Source Editor is more than just a simple viewer for different document types. [url= If you are thinking of selling content in digital form, look no further than LinkShare. Using a LinkShare account, your links will be distributed through LinkShare's own network of affiliates around the web. All that is required of you is to become a LinkShare Member, but this is an easy process that can be accomplished within a few minutes. In the latest update, LinkShare is giving all new members a free promotion to a $50 LinkShare account
