The Act expressly authorizes employees to take such actions with respect to recovery of game and fish as are reasonably necessary. The Game Commission does not challenge this portion of the Court of Appeals' decision. Instead, the Game Commission argues that the Lake Chelan Improvement Act provides the exclusive means to facilitate the interests of the residents and landowners of Lake Chelan, such as the creation of a Lake Chelan Management Service. In other words, the Game Commission argues that the Game Commission's actions are immune from judicial review because the Game Commission's actions were undertaken in the exercise of their police and fire powers. The Game Commission correctly points out that RCW 6d1f23a050
