In the case of a video signal, given the key input signal obtained at the input, it leaves the output of the same amplitude. What is innovative with Mp4Gain is the algorithm normalization of all the signals in your collection MP4, MP3, FLAC, WAV, OGG, MP2 and MP1 and can be combined with the ReplayGain (optional). This algorithm of Mp4Gain also reduces the filesize or mp4 by a factor of up to 3x, you can save Mp4Gain after reaching normalization? Mp4Gain also includes a number of bonus functions for playback only album, favorite list, movies and the possibility of the clipboard will be very useful for the success of your work. Finally, we can add that Mp4Gain comes with a number of presets, and presets, our users have greatly appreciated their work, you can download at a preset by clicking at the bottom of the Mp4Gain screen. Mp4Gain is not a simple player, because it is fully customizable interface where you can choose which files show an icon, information and duration, what files play, also tracks can be shown in big or small, or ordered by type. And if you like, you can mute the audio, it will even support the subtitles. You can see an example of Mp4Gain in action in the video below. The results were very clear, with Mp4Gain after filtering a bass filter that allows you to use each channel in each group and when you select any of the bass frequency, the appropriate tone will be played (counterpart) to give you each channel individually. However, you can also completely eliminate all the bass by removing the 3 dB at 10-16 kHz, but that's a situation you do in a test. Remember that the entire body and case of music is also the impression of the bass, but if you are producing this type of audio, you definitely want to eliminate the bass. Although the neutralization is not significant, but this is necessary if you want to improve the bass of a file that does not have a bass.
